Introduction

The tradition of Hotel Atlantic dates back to the 17th century when it was a roadside inn, "The Green Ox". In 1845 the first railroad engine arrived at what is known today as Masaryk Railway Station. The inn was rebuilt and converted into a hotel and renamed "The English Court". Many members of royalty and other prominent guests stayed in its spacious, comfortable rooms. In 1935 it was renamed Hotel Atlantic and in 2005 was reconstructed and modernized.

Hotel location

The historic Hotel Atlantic is situated in the heart of Prague, just around the corner from the Municipal House and the Prague's main shopping boulevard, Na Příkopě. Many of the most important sites of Prague and in particular Old Town Square can be easily reached from Hotel Atlantic. Charles Bridge and many other places of interest are by foot just several minutes away.
